

Danny Ubario has been a Deputy Director of North County Operations for the County of Los Angeles Department of Animal Care and Control since 2015. After his military service in the United States Marine Corps, Danny started as a kennel attendant, cleaning and caring for animals at the Downey Animal Care Center. Danny has moved up through the ranks, working in different centers and units like the Major Case Unit.

Danny is a participant in the Executive Leadership Development Program from the USC School of Public Policy.

Danny is a member of the Los Angeles County Management Council and State Humane Association.

Danny's dedication to animals began as a child by caring for his own pets. Danny loves to work with volunteers, rescues and people who are passionate about animals, including large animal welfare organizations like the ASPCA, as well as other agencies in the animal care field.

In his spare time, Danny enjoys spending time with his family and listening to music. He has a dog named Oreo, a Bearded Dragon named Auggie, and three geckos named Blue, Echo and Delta.
